BY WHITNER CARY.
Jesse Sweetser, amateur champion of Great Britain, and Bobby Cruickshank, the wee Scot who recently blazed a golden pathway across the winter golfing horizon, yesterday afternoon stood on the 16th tee of the East Lake golf course in the pro-amateur best ball competition of the southern open golf tournament and gazed into the sunset and the stern fact that to win they would have to shoot those last three holes in one under par.

Some 30 minutes later this same Jesse Sweetser and his stocky partner stood on the 18th green while the plaudits of 3,000 golf fans proclaimed the fact that those last three holes had been made in one under the prescribed number of strokes and that Jesse and the wee Scot had won the pro-amateur best ball event.

To win this event they had to out-teal through a field that contained the greatest collection of golfing talent that ever was gathered under a southern sky. A field that found the mighty Sir Walter Hagen paired with the one and only Bobby Jones, that saw Watts Gunn ambulating over the fairways in company with Clarence Hickman, that saw Gene Cook, champion of Georgia, teamed with Long Jim Barnes, that saw Chick Ridley and Gene Sarazen together and that saw Charlie Black and Johnny Farrell parading under the same banner. And there were many more teams that were of formidable caliber. In fact, it was one of the dark horse combinations, in the form of Enamett French and Joe Hyndes, that led the field right up to the time the last putt from the Cruickshank-Sweetser pair found the cup.

Inspired Golf.
To win this event Cruickshank and Sweetser played a brand of golf that at times rose to the heights of inspired brilliance and which on but very few occasions found both parties off on any one hole. As proof of this a glance at their card reveals the fact that no less than eight birdies appeared opposite their names while but one hole found them both over par figures. This about tells the story of their success.

Paired against Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen, the match was carded as the feature match of the day and as such drew a tremendous gallery. For once the dear old dope, that elusive article that so often refuses to run true to form, was on its good behavior and as a result the gallery was

WOMEN SMOKING ON TRAIN SHOCK MRS. L. G. HARDMAN

Raleigh, N. C., March 23.—(P)—Her first sight of a woman smoking a cigarette was the most startling thing Mrs. L. G. Hardman, wife of the governor-elect of Georgia has seen on her tour of inspection of southern states with her husband and a party of Georgia state officers.

Mrs. Hardman said here today she saw the woman smoking on a Pullman coming into Raleigh and that she was quite shocked.

Today the party made rounds of state departments and state college. The Georgians were luncheon guests of Governor McLean and resumed inspection tours in the afternoon.

Part of the group left tonight for Georgia but Governor-elect Hardman announced his intention of staying over another day to talk things over with Governor McLean. He is expected to look especially into the state's financial system.

When It Comes To Newspapers People Read the One They Like

The Constitution goes into more homes in Atlanta and suburbs every day than any other Atlanta newspaper. That is because they want it in the home where it can be carefully read, and that is why The Constitution is most valuable as an advertising medium.

Advertisers value home-delivered circulation above "street sales" because they know the paper delivered into the home is going to be carefully read, whereas the paper bought on the street is too often purchased just to read the headlines on the first page, or to get the latest market quotations or sporting event reports.

Advertising that is not read is wasted. The successful advertiser is interested in knowing if his advertisements are being read.

WIDOW OF VICTIM AND MAN INDICTED IN SNYDER MURDER

Defendants Will Be Arraigned in Court Thursday Morning; Insanity Is Plea.

BY FRANK GETTY.
New York, March 23.—(United News.)—What Mrs. Ruth Snyder and her lover, Henry Judd Gray, now declare to have been a "terrible mistake," the state calls first degree murder.

While the woman, haggard from sleepless hours in a cell, her eyes ringed with pain and her faded hair unkempt beneath a once jaunty sports hat, cried out again and again that she was innocent, a Queens county grand jury lost no time Wednesday in returning indictments against the couple accused of murdering Albert Snyder, art editor of Motor Boating.

Gray remained sequestered in his cell while his counsel prepared the ground-work for a plea of temporary insanity, but Mrs. Snyder accorded an interview to reporters in which she exclaimed:

"Oh, God, I had nothing to do with the killing of my husband."

In an adjacent courtroom, the grand jury was listening to the dispassionate confessions of the accused couple, who have admitted beating Snyder to death with a sash weight early Sunday morning as the climax of a carefully prepared murder plot.

The jurors also heard witnesses shatter the last remnants of a carefully prepared alibi arranged by Gray.

When the hearing was over, Henry Mollenhauer, foreman of the grand jury, handed up indictments before Supreme Court Justice Callaghan late Wednesday afternoon. The defendants will be arraigned in Queens county courthouse Thursday morning.

Confession Contested.
The interview with Mrs. Snyder afforded the woman another opportunity to repudiate her confession, which her counsel maintained, was obtained under duress.

"I didn't know what I was saying," she explained tearfully. "I didn't have a morsel of food from Sunday until yesterday."

"You see," interposed Edgar F. Hazleton, her lawyer, "a plain case of mental duress."

Hazleton did not, however, permit Mrs. Snyder to explain the circumstances surrounding her husband's death. One wild exclamation of anguish when asked if she took part in the murder came from the accused woman and then the attorney ended the interview.

"Oh, I am terribly sorry, awfully sorry about all this," continued Mrs. Snyder. Her eyelids drooped, rather obviously, "Two days later, Mr. J. H. Houck was picked up in Horrell, N. Y., wandering about in his underclothes and babbling incoherently."

Brought back to Washington and held for a while under observation

SEASON SEAT SALE FOR OPERA OPENS

Promptly at 9 This Morning Sale of Tickets To General Public Starts at Box Office.

The season seat sale for the season of Metropolitan grand opera in Atlanta, April 25-30, will open this morning at 9 o'clock at the Cable Piano company, 84 North Broad street. The box office will remain open each day, with the exception of Sunday, from 9 to 5, through April 2. Season seats only will be sold at this time.

The guarantor's sale which closed on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock, was the heaviest in the 17 years of Metropolitan opera in Atlanta, according to officials of the Music Festival association. In addition to the heavy guarantor's sale, the out-of-town mail reservations have totaled the greatest number ever recorded at this season of the advanced sale and every indication points to a record-breaking year, it is claimed. Practically every point in the south and east is represented in the out-of-town orders, which covers towns from Baltimore, Md., to Butte, Montana.

Officials of the association, encouraged by the tremendous success of the sales already recorded, expressed the opinion that all doubt concerning Strange Disappearance of Mrs. Gladys Houck 3 Months Ago Solved by Finding of Body.

HUSBAND FOUND
BABBLING WILDLY

Couple Disappeared Together, But He Later Was Found Suffering From Amnesia.

Albany, Ore., March 23.—(P)—Dr. Knute Houck, detained here today in connection with the finding of the body of his wife in the Potomac river, at Washington, D. C., will start back to that city as soon as arrangements can be made with Washington officials.

This was announced late today by Dr. Dean Crowell, cousin of Dr. Houck, at whose home the Washington physician has been visiting here.

Wants Mystery Cleared.
"Dr. Houck is anxious that all mystery in connection with the death of his wife shall be cleared up as quickly as possible," said Dr. Crowell. "The local authorities have wired to Washington expressing his willingness to return, and have asked that an officer be sent from there, or for instructions to have him go at once in custody of a local officer."

"Dr. Houck is in poor health, and I wish to have him spared any unnecessary mental strain."

Dr. Houck came here recently with his mother, Dr. Mary Houck, a physician of LaCrosse, Wis.

Before city officials received a telegram for detention of Dr. Houck, a representative of the Associated Press called at the house but was refused admission. Mrs. Crowell stating that Dr. Houck's condition was such that he could not be interviewed.

DISAPPEARANCE HELD BAFFLING MYSTERY.
Washington, March 23.—(P)—The baffling mystery surrounding the disappearance three months ago of Mrs. Gladys Houck was partially cleared up today with the finding of her body in the Potomac river near the Washington navy yard.

Although a coroner said a preliminary examination had disclosed no marks of violence, and none were found when an autopsy was performed later, the district attorney's office requested the police at Albany, Ore. to detain the woman's husband, Dr. Knute H. Houck, formerly a psychiatrist at St. Elizabeth's hospital here.

Houck was located at the home of relatives, who said he was recuperating from a nervous breakdown, and added that the family had been convinced all along that his wife had committed suicide. Police asked that he be held for questioning, and an effort will be made to have him returned here, at least, to testify at the coroner's inquest.

Quarrel Admitted.
Both Mr. Houck, who before her marriage lived in Canton, Ohio, and her husband, dropped out of sight December 15, leaving behind them a 2-year-old son, a 2-year-old daughter, and a 1-year-old son. Dr. Houck was picked up in Horrell, N. Y., wandering about in his underclothes and babbling incoherently.

Central Railway President Says Diversified Farming Must Come; To Raise $50,000 Fund.

Agreement by J. J. Peller, president of the Central of Georgia railway, to head a committee to raise $50,000 in Georgia immediately for financing the work of the Georgia association in getting the farms of the state on a basis of diversified farming and live stock cultivation, featured a meeting of industrial and big business executives at the Ansley hotel late Wednesday afternoon. P. S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power company, declared that the business men of Georgia will have to dig down in their own pockets to finance this movement.

"It is usually the case," he said, "that the man who criticizes is trying

SOUTH CAROLINA HOUSE BACKS VETO OF SUNDAY BILL

Columbia, S. C., March 23.—(P)—The house of representatives of the South Carolina general assembly tonight sustained the veto by Governor Richards of the modified Sunday observance act.

The vote was 67 to sustain the governor's veto and 40 to override it. The bill would have had to secure a two-thirds vote to have overridden the veto before it could have become law.

The senate had this morning overridden the veto of the governor by a vote of 23 to 16. Four votes more than the necessary two-thirds.

Passage came after nearly three hours of debate, during which Senator S. V. Summers, of Calhoun, spoke for sustaining the veto, while opposing the veto were Senators Arrowsmith, Johnstone, Goodrich and several others.

Blonde and Brunette MARRIAGE TO EITHER BOOSTS OTHER, SAY DEBATERS

Both Disappointing

BY HERB M'CUSSKER.
"Do Women Prefer Blondes?" No siree! Women simply take what Fate shuffles their way with a smile, and end up seated across from some cranky, bald-headed hybrid of neither blonde nor brunette persuasion—and wish they had married the opposite complexion.

This astounding revelation was hurled convincingly into the appalled faces of some 180 Atlantans at the Henry Grady hotel Wednesday night after Eugene Black and Walter O. Foote, prominent business men, who admitted having had leisure from their arduous missions in life to permit them to observe the peculiarities of the fair sex, had engaged in a verbal combat over the subject: "Do Women Prefer Blondes?" at the Atlanta Masonic club banquet.

With Mr. Foote striding along with the mayonnaise side of the argument and Mr. Black exhorting in favor of the dark side, woman's virtues, vicissitudes and versatility in viewing varieties of virility were bared to the audience in a manner which left no doubt that business men can think of something besides their business occasionally.

Mr. Foote opened the debate with a little inside information regarding the episode involving Samson's impromptu hair-bob and the part Delilah played in it, claiming that the Biblical recipient of the first known haircut was a brunette who was improved upon by his blonde spouse.

Staggered but unbowed, Debater Black unleashed a fusillade of body blows which all but sent the blondes through the ropes. Declaring that anyone present could but glance around the banquet hall to learn that "women have no preference" when it comes to selecting a man, Mr. Black emphasized the continuous change under which women's mind goes to establish this fact.

"It is difficult to say any lovely things about women—they have so few things about them these days," he said. "They are continually changing their opinions as well as their waist-line and length of their skirts."

"Take Little Dora in David Copperfield, for instance. Dora looked over all the eligibles in her home town and finally decided upon David—a brunette. Then what did she do? She bawled all the time. She couldn't sew, she couldn't cook and every time David told her he was going to stay late at the club, she burst into tears."

"A woman doesn't marry a man because she likes him, she simply marries him because he's handy. Just take a look around this room—do you imagine all these women preferred all these men? No sir! It's just like red flannels—she thought she wanted to wear red flannels once and

WAR DEPARTMENT SELLS CONSERVATIVES 200 MACHINE GUNS AND 3,000,000 ROUNDS OF AMMUNITION.

Washington, March 23.—(P)—The War Department has sold 200 machine guns and 3,000,000 rounds of ammunition from the American war department.

This announcement was made by state department officials late tonight.

The purchase was represented by the Diaz government as being "urgently needed to maintain law and order" in that country and for suppression of "revolutionary activities" which threaten not only the constitutional government of Nicaragua but also lives and property of Americans and other foreigners.

The arms and ammunition already had been shipped to Managua. The total cost of the purchase was $217,718. The sale is secured by a series of notes of $5,000 each given by the Nicaraguan government.

The announcement of the transaction was represented as having been authorized by Secretary Kellogg. It said that the terms of the sale were the same as those under which guns and ammunition were sold to the Nicaraguan government in 1921.

Girls' Screams Rouse Mother, Rout Burglar

Aroused by the shrieking of her daughters, Mrs. W. P. McDewett, of 822 Mettelle drive, rushed into their bedroom and was shot at by a negro burglar from whom she attempted to wrest a drawn gun, shortly after the family had retired Wednesday night, according to police reports.

The bullet went wide of its mark and lodged in the wall of the room, while the daughters, frightened into hysterics at the thought of their mother being shot, raised their screams to a higher pitch and madly pursued the intruder, who broke the window sash in his haste to leap from the room.

According to the story told Call Officers Eugene Head and John E. Crankshaw, who were dispatched to the scene of the attempted burglary, Miss Louise and Miss Annie McDewett were awakened from their sleep by the noise of the burglar, who had pried open a window in the residence and made his way to the bedroom in the rear. In response to their shrieks at sight of the interloper, Mrs. McDewett dashed into the daughters' room. The negro then drew a pistol, which he aimed at Mrs. McDewett, who grabbed the weapon in an effort to snatch it from the man's hand.

At the report of the shot, the young women, thinking their mother had been wounded, were thrown into their hysterics and made for the intruder. The officers investigating the case found blood traces on the ground below the window from which the negro had jumped, in his escape, which they attributed to cuts probably sustained from the broken glass.

Detailed description of the culprit was furnished the officers, who made an extensive search for the man and turned the information over to detectives for further investigation.

MINISTER TELLS FLOGGING STORY

Lyons, Ga., March 23.—(P)—While his masked abductors prepared to flog him, after spiriting him away from church at pistol and sword point, the Rev. J. T. Jones, Jr., Baptist minister, forced a pause while he knelt in prayer and asked their forgiveness, the minister testified today at the trial of five men whom he identified as having been in the band. Two men cursed as he prayed, the minister said.

The state rested its case late in the day after six other witnesses had testified, corroborating in effect the statements of Reverend Jones on the stand.

Eighty-three witnesses have been summoned by the defense, which will open its case when court reconvenes tomorrow. Indications are that alibis will be offered in defense of the five men.

Several of the men were robes of the Ku Klux Klan when they forced him to accompany them from the South Thompson Baptist church the night of August 13, 1925, took him blindfolded into the country and flogged him.

BY HERB M'CUSSKER.
"Do Women Prefer Blondes?" No siree! Women simply take what Fate shuffles their way with a smile, and end up seated across from some cranky, bald-headed hybrid of neither blonde nor brunette persuasion—and wish they had married the opposite complexion.

This astounding revelation was hurled convincingly into the appalled faces of some 180 Atlantans at the Henry Grady hotel Wednesday night after Eugene Black and Walter O. Foote, prominent business men, who admitted having had leisure from their arduous missions in life to permit them to observe the peculiarities of the fair sex, had engaged in a verbal combat over the subject: "Do Women Prefer Blondes?" at the Atlanta Masonic club banquet.

With Mr. Foote striding along with the mayonnaise side of the argument and Mr. Black exhorting in favor of the dark side, woman's virtues, vicissitudes and versatility in viewing varieties of virility were bared to the audience in a manner which left no doubt that business men can think of something besides their business occasionally.

Mr. Foote opened the debate with a little inside information regarding the episode involving Samson's impromptu hair-bob and the part Delilah played in it, claiming that the Biblical recipient of the first known haircut was a brunette who was improved upon by his blonde spouse.

Staggered but unbowed, Debater Black unleashed a fusillade of body blows which all but sent the blondes through the ropes. Declaring that anyone present could but glance around the banquet hall to learn that "women have no preference" when it comes to selecting a man, Mr. Black emphasized the continuous change under which women's mind goes to establish this fact.

"It is difficult to say any lovely things about women—they have so few things about them these days," he said. "They are continually changing their opinions as well as their waist-line and length of their skirts."

"Take Little Dora in David Copperfield, for instance. Dora looked over all the eligibles in her home town and finally decided upon David—a brunette. Then what did she do? She bawled all the time. She couldn't sew, she couldn't cook and every time David told her he was going to stay late at the club, she burst into tears."

"A woman doesn't marry a man because she likes him, she simply marries him because he's handy. Just take a look around this room—do you imagine all these women preferred all these men? No sir! It's just like red flannels—she thought she wanted to wear red flannels once and

WAR DEPARTMENT SELLS CONSERVATIVES 200 MACHINE GUNS AND 3,000,000 ROUNDS OF AMMUNITION.

Washington, March 23.—(P)—The War Department has sold 200 machine guns and 3,000,000 rounds of ammunition from the American war department.

This announcement was made by state department officials late tonight.

The purchase was represented by the Diaz government as being "urgently needed to maintain law and order" in that country and for suppression of "revolutionary activities" which threaten not only the constitutional government of Nicaragua but also lives and property of Americans and other foreigners.

The arms and ammunition already had been shipped to Managua. The total cost of the purchase was $217,718. The sale is secured by a series of notes of $5,000 each given by the Nicaraguan government.

The announcement of the transaction was represented as having been authorized by Secretary Kellogg. It said that the terms of the sale were the same as those under which guns and ammunition were sold to the Nicaraguan government in 1921.

LAGRANGE FETES MACY LEADERS

LaGrange, Ga., March 23.—(Special.)—LaGrange was host today to the executives of the R. H. Macy & Co., of New York, and Atlanta citizens, the party coming here from Columbus, where a banquet was held Tuesday night in their honor.

In the party were Jesse Isadore Straus, president of R. H. Macy & Co., and Mrs. Straus; Herbert Straus, vice president and treasurer of the company; Clark Howell, Sr., editor of The Atlanta Constitution; and Mrs. Howell; Mrs. W. J. Wells, wife of one of the Macy executives; Mrs. Raymond A. Kline, wife of an executive of Davison-Paxon company, of Atlanta, affiliated with R. H. Macy & Co.; Fred Houser, secretary of the Atlanta Convention and Tourist bureau, and Colonel Frederic J. Paxon, secretary and treasurer of Davison-Paxon company.

The Straus brothers are in Georgia for the opening last Monday of the Davison-Paxon company, of Atlanta, affiliated with Macy's, and Tuesday were in Tallahassee, Fla., where their grandfather, Lazarus Straus, began his business career in America in 1848. The guests were entertained at the Colonial hotel today at the week luncheon of the LaGrange Rotary club. Although time was limited and it was possible to show the visitors only a few of the many attractions of the city of elms and roses, the occasion proved a most enjoyable one to both home folk and visitors.

Those included on the reception committee were Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Quillian, Ely R. Callaway, Barrington J. King, Roder Dallis and Jack Williams. The visitors were carried to the Valley mills, where they saw the various stages of manufacture of rugs. They also visited Ferrell Gardens, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Ely R. Callaway, where they were shown through the unique gardens of this wonderful estate. The sight-seeing tour came to an end with a short visit to the Highland Country club.

After seeing the sights of LaGrange, the Macy executives left for Atlanta about 5:30 o'clock.

SPRING WEATHER FOLLOWS BREAK IN COLD SNAP

Fair weather with a slight rise in temperatures is the forecast for Atlanta and vicinity today, according to C. F. von Hermann, meteorologist of the local governmental bureau.

With the mercury descending to within two degrees of freezing early Wednesday morning, the climax of a two-day break in Atlanta's warm spring weather has been passed and a gradual return to pre-spring weather is in progress, the weather man declared.

Moderate temperatures are scheduled for the next few days before summer heat is felt again, while crystal clear skies will accompany the greater portion of the slow mercury rise. The thermometer registered a low of 34 degrees Wednesday, while the high mark reached was 57 degrees. Minimum and maximum temperatures today are predicted to range from 40 and 60 degrees, respectively.

RELIGIOUS WORK IN PRISON TOLD BY EX-CHAPLAIN

Benefits of religious activities in penal institutions were discussed Wednesday night by A. H. Thomas, accredited representative of the Episcopal church at the Atlanta Federal penitentiary, in an address at the weekly prayer meeting of the First Christian church.

Mr. Thomas, who is connected with the Western Union, was voluntary acting chaplain of the federal prison for eight months of 1925, and conducts Bible classes at the institution. He sketched religious activities in the Atlanta prison, and told of what is being done in the spiritual behalf of the inmates.

The Rev. C. R. Stauffer, pastor, introduced Mr. Thomas to the gathering and presided at the meeting.

OZBURN ANNOUNCES FOR COUNCIL POSITION

J. T. Ozburn, councilman from the seventh ward, Wednesday announced his candidacy for reelection subject to the city democratic primary of May 25.

Mr. Ozburn has been connected with the Hawks Optical company for the past 24 years and has been a resident of seventh ward for 20 years. He is the only member of the 1921 police committee who was re-elected Mayor J. N. Ragsdale renounced to that post. In addition to that he is a member of the claims, park and water committees, all important adjuncts to the city government.

During his tenure of office, Mr. Ozburn has championed several important progressive legislative papers and has supported every major public improvement proposed in council. He is prominent in secret and fraternal circles of the city in addition to participating actively in many civic organizations.

He was elected to city council in 1925 when W. C. Jenkins, then councilman, announced his candidacy for the alderman's position. Mr. Jenkins was defeated by the present mayor Tom W. Guy Dobbs, and Mr. Ozburn was named councilman.

"I hope that my friends will review carefully my record as I am basing my candidacy for reelection on it," Mr. Ozburn said.

SOLICITOR TO PROBE SLAYING AT MACON

Macon, Ga., March 23.—(Special.)—Mrs. Eva Tanner, widow, held in the Bibb county jail here on a warrant charging her with the murder of E. B. Hogan, her companion on a lonely road last Wednesday night, will not be given her liberty until a thorough investigation exonerates her of any connection with the crime, it was announced tonight by Charles H. Garrett, solicitor general.

Garrett ordered a warrant for her arrest last Saturday. He is engaged this week in the courts of Crawford county.

Garrett said tonight that he would return to Macon Friday, and at that time would make a thorough investigation of the case. In the meantime, sheriff's deputies are at work in an effort to locate an automobile said to have been stolen from W. E. Dix at Juliette on Thursday night, following the murder on Wednesday night, and in which the murderers are said to have escaped. Large rewards have been offered for capture and conviction of the Hogan slayers.

Mrs. Tanner appears composed in her jail cell and declared today that she is resigned to being behind the bars for a time, "if it will help in finding the man who killed Mr. Hogan." The widow was the only companion of Hogan on his last ride and her screams, before and after the pistol shot that ended his life brought neighbors on the scene on Marianne drive, little used dirt road in Creech Hills, just off the Forsyth highway.

Mrs. Tanner's arrest and detention was "to make her talk," when doubt was cast on her story by collapse of the case against the printing school student. She has not changed her account of the night's happenings, however, and facts established in the six days' investigation have virtually substantiated every detail.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEADERS DISCUSS RALLY IN SPRING

Atlanta Sunday school superintendents will meet at supper at Peacecock cafe at 6:15 o'clock tonight to discuss plans for an interdenominational good-will Sunday school rally in the early spring.

Joel Hunter, superintendent of St. Mark Methodist Sunday school, Atlanta, is general chairman and Bayne Gibson, superintendent of First Methodist Sunday school, Decatur, is chairman of the executive committee.

It is planned to include more than 100 Sunday schools of Atlanta, Decatur, College Park, East Point and Hapeville in a mammoth good-will demonstration. Details of the demonstration are to be worked out at the meeting.

AGED PRISON WORKER, FORMER SLAVE DIES

Mary Crolley, 77 years of age, of 1101 Capitol avenue, S. W., died at her home Tuesday night. For over 40 years she has voluntarily done religious work among prisoners in the jails, prison camps and chain-gangs of Georgia. In addition to distributing religious literature among prisoners, she aided them to get in touch with their families and responded to every call without any financial compensation whatsoever. Her work was not confined to colored prisoners alone but to all, regardless of race or sex. She was respected by judges, sheriffs, wardens and guards, who gave her every courtesy and assistance in carrying on her work.

At the age of five she was sold on the slave block at McDonough, Ga. After the war between the states, she married Rev. John Crolley, who survives her. He is a minister in the Methodist Episcopal church and has lived and worked throughout the state over a half century. To this union 15 children were born of which nine survive. She is also survived by two brothers, one sister and four great-grandchildren.

SHERIFF OF CRISP VISITOR TO CITY

Tentative plans for the annual convention of the Georgia State Sheriffs and Peace Officers association, which will be held in Douglas, Ga. April 14-15, have been completed, according to Sheriff C. O. Noble, of Crisp county, who was a visitor Wednesday in Atlanta.

While in the city Sheriff Noble conferred with County Police Chief George Matheson, Sheriff James I. Lowry and attaches of Solicitor General John A. Boykin's office on matters pertaining to the organization.

NEWMAN BOY HEADS PHI KAPPA AT ATHENS

Athens, Ga., March 23.—(Special.) Robert H. Hill, Newman, has been elected president of Phi Kappa Literary society for the third term, succeeding Allen W. Post, also of Newman, president for the second term. Hill, a member of the senior class, has represented the society in numerous speaking events, has earned a speaking key; is on the track squad, and is prominent in many other student activities. He is a member of the Chi Phi fraternity.

Other officers elected are Robert L. Patterson, Athens, first assistant; Ben Hardy, Barnesville, second assistant; Craig L. Barrow, Jr., Savannah, secretary; Garry Harris, Valdosta, sergeant-at-arms; A. Park McGinty, Atlanta, critic; Tom Hamilton, Augusta, was re-elected press agent to the society.

Beer and Wine Possession Held Not Illegal

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.) Madison, Wis., March 23.—Possession of beer and wine are not subject to arrest unless such possession is in a licensed soft drink parlor, J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, held in an opinion today.

The opinion was asked by George S. Geffs, district attorney of Rock county, who particularly inquired as to whether the possession of beer and wine in an automobile is illegal. Messerschmidt in his opinion, which was approved by Attorney General John Reynolds, based his opinion on supreme court decisions. The law provides that the possession of intoxicating liquor outside of the home is illegal, but Messerschmidt declares that "intoxicating" refers only to distilled liquor and that the possession of beer and wine in or out of the home, with the one exception of soft drink parlors, is entirely legal.

The fact that wine and beer can be openly possessed anywhere with one exception leaves few avenues for arrests in connection with these beverages. Arrests can be made for manufacturing these liquids or for their sale.

TALBOTTON SHERIFF SEEKS TO IDENTIFY MAN FOUND DEAD

Talbotton, Ga., March 23.—(Special.)—James H. Ferguson, sheriff of Talbot county, is seeking the identity of the man found dead near Talbotton yesterday. The man appears to be about 60 years old, weighs about 120 pounds and approximately 5 feet and 6 inches. On the back of his hat are the initials "S. E. G." On the body were found two check stubs, bearing the word "Dupont" printed as a background all over the check. The stubs were marked "6223" and "7029" and were issued to "Emp. 735."

Officials of the E. I. Dupont de Nemours company in Atlanta stated Wednesday night that the man found dead at Talbotton may have been an employee of that firm's construction plant at Mineral Springs, Ala., as the description of the stubs of the checks tallied with the kind used there to pay off employees.

DR. LAND TO SPEAK TO HOUSTON SCHOOLS

Perry, Ga., March 23.—(Special.) Dr. Port C. Land, state superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker here Friday when the field day exercises of the Houston county schools will be held. Dr. Land will speak in the afternoon, preceding the athletic events on the campus of the Perry High school.

The athletic events will include high, running and broad jumps, potato races and 100-yard dash. The Parent-Teacher association plans to have a tariff exhibit of home-made articles, clothing, furniture, etc., made by members of the schools of the county. The prize-winning articles will be sent to Macon to the State P.T.A. conference in April in competition with other winning articles throughout the state.

REGISTER BANKER GETS PRISON TERM

Statesboro, Ga., March 23.—(Special.)—John R. Godbee, former cashier of the Bank of Register, on trial here for embezzlement, was convicted this morning. The jury recommended that he be punished as for a misdemeanor. Punishment was fixed at from one to two years in the penitentiary.

Godbee still is to be tried on the charge of forgery.

DOG'S WHIMPERING SAVES STEAMER AS FIRE STARTS

Sydney, March 23.—A dog today saved the life of the children of the steamer Usuri Maru, lying in Port Adelaide and also saved the vessel from destruction by fire. The captain was awakened early this morning by the dog's continuous whimpering. He put his foot out of the bunk to quiet the dog, which continued to whimper. The captain got up and was met by a volume of smoke pouring from the officers' quarters. He sounded an alarm and called the fire brigade. The flames were put out with considerable damage to the quarters. The dog was trapped in the captain's quarters and suffocated, though an attempt was made to rescue him.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR W. C. LATIMER

Fulton county superior courts will be in recess throughout today as a mark of respect for W. Carroll Latimer, prominent attorney who died at a private sanitarium Tuesday and for whom funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal church. The Rev. W. L. Duren will officiate, and interment will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Latimer practiced law in Atlanta for 25 years, during which time he served as president of the Atlanta Bar association and vice president of the Georgia Bar association. He was a leading figure in the social and civic life of this city and a member of the Druid Hills Golf club, Piedmont Driving club, Capital City club, Sigma Epsilon college fraternity and Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity.

Mr. Latimer is survived by his wife, two daughters, Miss May Wallace and Miss Frances Latimer; two sons, W. Carroll, Jr., and Asbury C. Latimer; his mother, Mrs. Asbury C. Latimer, of Belton, S. C.; four sisters, Mrs. James H. Patton and Mrs. Robert C. Watson, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Martin Heard, of Elberton, Ga.; and Mrs. Grange Cuthbert, of Summerville, S. C.

An honorary court, consisting of past presidents and members of the governing board of the Capital City club, of which Mr. Latimer was vice president at the time of his death, will take part in the funeral services, it was announced by E. Rivers, president. Baxter Madison, president of the Atlanta Alumni association of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, announced that body will also act as an honorary escort. The following officers and directors of the Georgia

MIDGET PRINCESS TO SHOW CHILDREN LATE DANCE STEPS

Tiny "Princess Bernice," diminutive "black-bottom" dancer, 22 1/2 inches in height, and spry as a cricket, will be the hostess at the "children's matinee" Saturday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 6 o'clock on the Rubin & Cherry shows.

PRINCESS BERNICE.

King was bound over to the state courts by Recorder Callaway Wednesday on three charges of being a cheat and swindler. He failed to make bond, which was assessed at $2,000. On two occasions during his chain-gang term, King was sent to Atlanta to obtain supplies. Following his release he forgot to discontinue his calls at the supply houses. He is alleged to have procured quantities of shoes, socks and gloves and sent them to W. B. J. Ingram, Henry county commissioner.

Claims from the Atlanta supply houses were presented by Yancy and brothers for $50, Beck & Gregg for $49, and Fulton Supply company for $50. King was arrested when he attempted to make a second purchase at Beck & Gregg, after the first bill had been turned down by Henry county. The negro is believed to have pawned the supplies obtained.

CHAINGANG 'BUYER' HELD ON CHARGE OF SWINDLING

Molyer King, a negro who gave his address as 35 Fort street, faces a possible second term in jail as the result of a swindling scheme he is said to have learned while serving a two-year sentence on the Henry county chain-gang.

RAGSDALE URGES LIBERAL SUPPORT REUNION TAX DAY

Mayor I. N. Ragdale Wednesday issued a statement calling on Atlantans to support the flag sale which will be held Saturday by United Daughters of the Confederacy to raise funds to send Confederate veterans to the annual reunion at Tampa, April 5 to 8. City council has authorized the sale and the mayor Wednesday added his voice in an appeal for its enthusiastic support.

"Ranks of the survivors are thinning and the years are so few that our populace will be privileged to contribute to the comfort and pleasure of the remaining heroes of the Confederacy," the mayor said.

"The purpose which the patriotic daughters are sponsoring deserves the liberal support of those who cherish the valorous deeds and the living veterans, and I hope the appeal will meet with a generous response."

Sunday School Luncheon

New officers of the Woman's auxiliary, Decatur Presbyterian church, were honored at a luncheon Tuesday in the Sunday school room at the church, which was attended by over 150 women members of the congregation. New officers installed at the meeting are Mrs. E. R. Rivers, president; Mrs. J. M. Royal, vice president; Mrs. Milton Scott, secretary, and Mrs. R. H. Pencock. Speakers at the installation were Mrs. F. H. Gaines and Mrs. W. M. Everett.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR J. N. HARRIS

Funeral services for J. N. Harris, 76, of 1030 Austin avenue, pioneer and beloved Atlantian who died early Wednesday morning at a private hospital, following a stroke of apoplexy Monday, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the chapel of J. Austin Dillon company. The Rev. M. V. Underwood will officiate and interment will be in East View cemetery. Nephews of Mr. Harris will be pallbearers. Mr. Harris was the president of the Atlanta Life Insurance company, No. 60, 1 O. O. F. will have charge of services at the graveside. Officials and employees of the International Brotherhood of the Future, and the Accident Insurance company will act as honorary escorts.

A native of Atlanta, Mr. Harris received his education in the public schools of the city. He was one of the founders of the Phoenix planing mill and served as head of the estimators' association for more than 35 years. About six or seven years ago, Mr. Harris sold his interests in the mill and retired from active business life. He was for many years one of the most active workers in the Inman Park Methodist church but during the later years of his life transferred his membership to the Druid Hills Methodist church. He was a member of Capitol Lodge No. 60, I. O. O. F.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Frank M. Harris, of Greenville, N. C., and H. L. Harris, of San Diego, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Charles J. Lockridge, of Clearwater, Fla.; and a brother, W. H. Harris. He was the father of the late Guy Harris, former prominent musician.

Members of the Atlanta Bar association asked to serve as an escort of honor at Mr. Harris' funeral include: H. A. Alexander, Phillip H. Alston, Robert C. Alston, Clifford L. Anderson, Malcolm Anderson, William E. Arnold, Lowry Arnold, Reuben Arnold, Thomas R. Arnold, Clarence Bell, George L. Bell, Jr., E. R. Black, W. P. Bloodworth, J. R. Boyd, John A. Boykin, J. A. MANLEY SETTLEMENT MOVE AGAIN DELAYED

Consideration of a proposed settlement of the personal affairs of W. D. Manley, president of the defunct Bankers' Trust company, with his creditors, was postponed Wednesday until 11 o'clock Friday morning by referee in bankruptcy Harry Dodd when certain creditors of Mr. Manley were unable to attend the meeting.

Miss Emily Woodward, editor of The Vienna News and vice president of the Georgia Press association, Wednesday accepted chairmanship of the publicity division of the Georgia Children's Home society and will launch immediately an intensive campaign of statewide publicity to support the society's extension program, now being carried out.

Men Wearing Less Clothing, Makers Find In Survey

Is man wearing less clothing or wearing what he has longer? A slump of 7.5 per cent in the production of men's duds has just been announced by the federal department of commerce in its biennial census of manufacturers. The output for 1925 was given as a little more than a billion and a quarter dollars while that for the preceding census year was $1,105,116,203.

Of the 2,455 establishments reporting for 1925, 21 were located in Georgia. The report stated: Approximately one-half of the total number of plants engaged in the manufacture of men's clothing were located in New York, 1,025 separated establishments being listed.

Statistics gathered by the department of commerce showed that $467,802,808 in men's suits were manufactured in 1925, while the output of sport trousers was given as $38,354,394. Other items were reported as follows: $145,766,608, men's overcoats and topcoats; $65,159,003, boys' suits; $13,453,701, boys' separate pants; $18,656,714, boys' overcoats and reefer; $82,159,452, denim work clothing; $44,817,784, work clothing other than denim; and $19,396,677, miscellaneous products.

The establishments covered by this report did not include those of which shirts, collars or underwear are the chief products, but contract shoes working chiefly or wholly on materials furnished by others, it was pointed out.

BOYS' HIGH DRAMATIC CLUB GIVES PLAYLET

From advance seat sales at the school, a well filled house will greet the Boys' High Dramatic club when players present the spring production, Cosmo Hamilton's "The New Poor," Friday night. This will be the second appearance of the season on the stage of the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium, where the club presents all of its full-length productions, and its third performance of the term, including a one-act play presented at the annual Christmas exercises of the school.

"The New Poor" is a clever comedy of the tangled affairs of a group of Russian ex-nobility.

Union Lenten Services.

Union lenten services at St. Philip's cathedral Thursday night at 8 o'clock are to be featured by the presentation of Gounod's "Galla" by the choir under the direction of Miss Grace Thomson, organist and choir-leader. It was learned, Miss Thomson gave a Beethoven program as a part of a world-wide observance of Beethoven centennial week. Rossini's "Stabat Mater" will be presented by the choir on Sunday afternoon from 5 until 6 o'clock, it was announced.

Milton C. Work's Pointer On How To Play Bridge

(Milton C. Work, the international bridge authority, will answer your auction bridge questions. A stamped self-addressed envelope must accompany each request for replies.)

The pointer for today is: When Dummy holds King and one small of the suit led, with Jack and one small enclosed hand, play King from Dummy at No-Trump but at a Trump contract play small.

The above is a variation of a situation given earlier in the work in which Dummy held King-Jack, the principle being the same in either case. At No-Trump, it is a little more probable that the Ace is in the leading hand, than in the Third Hand; whereas, with a trump contract, the Ace is practically sure to be in the Third Hand, as the leader would not have led a small card of an Ace-suit. At a trump contract, therefore, play small on the first trick.

With the hope that doing so will force the Third Hand to win with the Ace. If the Third Hand have Ace-Queen, the situation is hopeless. Tomorrow's hand, which contains a rather varied of this general situation, is as follows:

Dummy (North)—Sp: A-x-x Ht: K-x-x Di: J-x-x-x Cl: K-x Closed Hand (South)—Sp: Q-J-10-8-7-6-5-4-3-2 Di: A-Q-10-8 Cl: J-5-2 If the Six of Clubs be led, what should Dummy play?

STEEL SOUGHT ON BLACKMAIL CHARGE, MISSING

Efforts to locate William Steele, against whom an indictment charging attempted blackmail of Mrs. A. F. Ross, his former wife, was returned by the Fulton grand jury Tuesday, were unavailing late Wednesday, according to Sheriff John I. Lowry who sent telegraphic inquiries to several southern cities in quest of the man. Steele was said to have been a captain in the United States navy but this was denied by naval reserve officers of statewide publicity to support the society's extension program, now being carried out.

The indictment was returned when Mrs. Ross, president wife of a local hotel proprietor, presented two threatening letters alleged to have been sent her by Steele in which he demanded $200 for silence regarding "things" he said he "could tell." Mrs. Ross, a reputable middle-aged woman, said the scheme was simply blackmail and that Steele had nothing he could "tell" about her.

Vienna Woman Will Direct Drive For Child's Home

Miss Emily Woodward, editor of The Vienna News and vice president of the Georgia Press association, Wednesday accepted chairmanship of the publicity division of the Georgia Children's Home society and will launch immediately an intensive campaign of statewide publicity to support the society's extension program, now being carried out.

Miss Woodward's acceptance of the publicity chairmanship was announced Wednesday by Robert E. Harvey, president of the society, following a conference of friends and supporters held at the residence of Woodward Tuesday night. Miss Woodward represented the state press at the conference.

The critical situation faced by the society as the result of a fast-growing demand for help to children throughout the state without proportionate increase in support was outlined at the meeting by Miss Emma Hardesty, the supervisor. Dr. Charles T. Wheeler, extension director; H. G. Voorhis, chairman of the executive committee, and Mrs. A. L. Norris, chairman of the woman's auxiliary.

"The people of Georgia will respond quickly when they know that the need is so great and that the Georgia Children's Home society is the agency through which it can be met," Miss Woodward asserted. "Georgia is too rich and too prosperous to permit any child to go in want within its borders, and with extension of the Georgia Children's Home society there will be no need for any child to be neglected."

Prayer Service.

Miss Jessie Campbell was hostess at the regular "church supper" Wednesday night at the Second Baptist church, which preceded the mid-week prayer service at the church. The supper was sponsored by the Young Women's Business league, of which Mrs. F. J. Paxon, is president. Following the supper, Dr. Gordon B. Singleton, had charge of the service in the absence of Rev. Carter Helm Jones, who is expected to return to the city today from a trip in Florida.

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted expert, will personally be at the Piedmont hotel, and remain in Atlanta Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 24, 25, 26, from 9 a. m. till 6:00 p. m. daily. Mr. Seeley says:

"The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and without any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions."

CAUTION—All cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with underclaps, as same rest where the lump is and no where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operation. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fee them if desired. play on the first trick? Explanation tomorrow.

To resume the play of the hand started yesterday which we left with eight cards of each hand unplayed. Declarer had taken one Diamond and four Club tricks. Closed Hand was in the lead, and the unplayed cards were:

Dummy—Sp: x-x Ht: A-x-x-x Di: x. Closed Hand—Sp: A-K-J Ht: Q-x-x Di: x-x. Declarer now knows that the Ace and King of Spades and the Ace of Hearts assure three more tricks, eight in all. One more is needed to make game, and the first chance for the game trick is the Spade finesse. The Ace of Hearts in Dummy affords an entry, but before using it Declarer, at trick 6, should lead the Ace of Spades; then (trick 7) win with the Ace of Hearts, and thus have the contract assured before risking the Spade finesse on Trick 8. A thoughtless player would put Dummy in with the Ace of Hearts on trick 6 before leading the Ace of Spades, and try the Spade finesse on Trick 7. That would be foolish; if the finesse then lose, the contract, assured by the lead of the Ace of Spades, might be defeated. In trick 6, should lead the Ace of Spades, and try the Spade finesse until the second round.

SIX SLIGHTLY HURT IN TRAFFIC MISHAPS

F. Griffin, of Carrollton, Ga., was seriously hurt early Wednesday morning in an accident which featured a series of traffic mishaps occurring throughout the day.

Griffin was driving an automobile on Marietta street when he was in a head-on collision with an east-bound street car near Ashby street. G. H. Wade, of Carey park, was operating the car. Patrolmen W. S. Morgan and R. D. Dupree investigated the case and Griffin was carried to Grady hospital for treatment. Charles Boyles, 64, of 624 Paynes avenue, had his right leg broken and his right shoulder blade dislocated, when the mule pulling the peddler's wagon he was driving was frightened by a motor truck and ran wildly down a hill into Vine street from West Mitchell street. He was taken to Grady hospital by passing motorists.

Three children knocked down and slightly injured by automobiles in the neighborhood of their home Wednesday evening were Hedlin Story, 15, of 608 North Moreland avenue; Billy Still, 8, of 164 Echo street; and Margaret Gwinn, 8, of 167 W. Harris street.

Editor Flanders Praises Expose In Flogging Case

Editor Horace M. Flanders, of the Soperton News, whose flogging recently by masked men tired the state, arrived in Atlanta Wednesday, where he will undergo treatment by specialists for injuries received when he was dragged from his car and brutally whipped near Soperton.

During his stay here he will be at the home of his sister, Mrs. R. A. Smith, of 367 Park avenue. Editor Flanders, barely able to walk even with the aid of crutches, called at The Constitution office to express his thanks for the paper's recent exposure of conditions in three middle Georgia counties where floggers have been active for many months.

"What The Constitution did in sending a staff man to the section to investigate was for a principle that all cling to with abiding faith, that of personal liberty. The Constitution's story was a clean-cut, fair statement of conditions and was appreciated by every fair-thinking person in my section."

Mr. Flanders expressed pleasure over the quick action Monday of a Treutlen county grand jury in returning indictments in the flogging cases against four citizens, including Sheriff W. L. Thielen. The jury was in session only about two hours. Trials of those indicted begin May 3.

Treutlen county is the home of thousands of poor, law-abiding citizens, the editor stated, "who are not

In the least in sympathy with the small gang of criminals who took occasionally. During my illness after the whipping hundreds visited me and encouraged me and gave assurances of their loyalty. As for that matter, I have received several hundred letters from all sections of the country offering assistance and giving words of cheer."

Mr. Flanders was shot down in the streets of Soperton several months previous to the recent attack by floggers by Crosby Williams, and for a long time it was feared that he would not live. The wound so impaired his health that he has been under constant care of physicians since that time. At the time he was whipped a few weeks ago he weighed only slightly more than 100 pounds and was in extremely poor health and wholly unable to defend himself against his assailants.

An editorial in Mr. Flanders' paper in which he urged stricter enforcement of laws, particularly drug laws, is believed to have been the cause of the attack upon him.

ALLEN TO SPEAK AT SECRETARIES' CLUB LUNCHEON

Ivan Allen, chairman of the Forward Atlanta commission, will be the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Secretaries' club, when that organization assembles at 12:30 o'clock today at the Davidson-Paxon company restaurant as luncheon guests of the new department store. The invitation was extended by Colonel F. J. Paxon.

Mr. Allen will speak on the proposed tax exemption amendment for dirt farmers in Georgia, which movement is being sponsored by the Agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Newark Club Pounds Four Cracker Hurlers To Win, 13-6

Visitors Touch Local Pitchers for 20 Hits

Cracker Pitching Staff Shows Plenty of Weak Spots—Welch and Carlyle Feature Tilt.

BY TOM THOMPSON.

What Bert Niehoff needs most is pitchers, not infielders. The Newark Bears of the International league pounded, smashed and busted four Cracker hurlers to many corners for 20 hits and 13 runs in another terrible swiftest at Spiller's dell Wednesday afternoon—13-6. At that the fielding wasn't so excellent, with an error by Dumas in centerfield that allowed a run to score and an error by Fowler, one of the hurlers, that scored another.

Rogers, Fowler, Cavet and Alvarez were the four pitchers. Tom started and went four innings giving up seven hits and three runs. Five of the hits and all of the runs came in the fourth inning.

Fowler followed—and he was just plumb awful. Outside of throwing the ball up in the right field bleachers in an attempt to catch Knobe, whom he had walked, off first, Fowler gave up five hits. The error of Dumas coupled with his own error in the fourth inning terminated for him the inning.

Cavet, the ancient, turned up and pitched his southern action. There was plenty of it. His first inning in was another Newark run fest—they garnered three runs off three hits.

Alvarez, the Cuban sensation, entered in the last two innings of the tune of three runs and five hits. He struck out the last two men up.

Kohlbecker, Brock and Leggett did the backstopping, while a sum total of 19 men were used by the Crackers at one time or another, mostly an other.

Zubris went five innings in the box for the Bears and he was snapped loose from eight hits which only yielded three runs. Fischer followed him for the remaining four innings and Fischer let the locals down with four hits and three runs all of which came in the ninth inning. Skiff and Hudson performed behind the bat for the invaders.

The outfielding acquisition from the Philadelphia Athletics continued his bombardment of the gardeners. Frank Welch slammed two doubles and a single in five times up. Mule Haas plunked one up the right bank for a triple. It was his only hit but Mule qualifies for the long hitting brigade. To date, he has three three-track clouts hanging on his belt.

The batting exhibition of Roy Carlyle, the Newark right fielder, was a peerless one. In six trips to the plate, Roy got four hits, drove in three runs and batted .400. The other was a single. His showing was of particular interest since he was a former Philadelphia slugger. He was the middle of last year was scheduled for the Crackers. However the local deal fell through and Roy spent the remainder of the season with the Yankees, got his full world series cut and was sent to Newark. If Roy was a fielder of any particular ability he would probably have kept on under the big top.

The office of Niehoff and Spiller were apparently devoid of interesting news Wednesday. Adler Lobkow, the hurler bought about the latter part of last season, has been sold to the Jackson club of the Cotton States League. It is reported, however, that they will accept him, or rather, they have not signed acceptance yet. Markle and Schwab, the new infielder, have not reported yet.

Three games remain on the week's calendar for the Crackers. Rochester will be embattled Friday and Saturday at the Fort McPherson. Sunday afternoon.

INSTALLMENT LII.

What would not the scenario department have given for a sight of Henry's letter? Or even of one of Dulcie's rare postals? But it had to come out itself with a piece of news less rich in color but possibly far reaching in significance—on the first of December Verona Revell's company was going to Palm Beach on location, and Phil Nathan was going along as assistant director. He wanted, he said, to learn the workings of every branch of the business. Yes, but, queried the scenario department, why was Nathan being allowed to learn every branch of the business, instead of being stuck into a slot like other people? The question was purely rhetorical for, when the scenario department presently heard that Mr. Hertzog, accompanied by his wife and daughter, had gone to complete his convalescence at Palm Beach, it smiled with complete understanding. "Miss Hertzog," said Phil to Cornelia, the day before he left, "feels as I do, that unless something is done pretty soon about motion pictures, there won't be any motion pictures to do anything about."

They were standing by the ferry's forward rail, roused and yet sobered by the sharp air and the lace foaming on the dark water as it by the deep's angry breath; winter was beginning early.

"It isn't the radio, it isn't anything on the outside that's knocking the bottom out of the industry. It's the mark of the canning factory. The deadly, sickening, empty, flat-headed flat-featured sameness of the brand! And nothing else!" After a pause, Phil added, "And Miss Hertzog thinks so, too."

Cornelia wondered if Miss Hertzog would enjoy persuading her father to contribute a year's endowment to Independent Pictures. But she refrained from this question and Phil went on: "I could never feel as you do, you know, our friend Horner, any willingness to offer my head on a charger for the perfecting of the screen as a means of expression. I could never go in for love in a cottage with the motion picture business. The theater, yes, I feel that way about the theater, but the theater won't have me. Well, farewell Art! Hail the Fifth Greatest Industry! But with the aim to make sound goods, you understand, all wool. No silk, but no shoddy! It ought to be a paying business—finding the way to put the goods on the market that everybody wants instead of mostly those that nobody wants."

"How would you begin?" Cornelia asked, feeling that any tip might come in handy.

"Well, I am beginning by trying to know things as they are. I want to be equipped for the arguments of the die hards who yell that only amateurs imagine they can make any better. I want to learn the difference between experience and superstition—linch-pins and dry-rot—like keeping a scenario department to find stories, when you know perfectly that nothing could induce you to produce any story that it found. Surely, the more a company saves on bunk, the more it can gamble with in experience. And it might be a paying experiment to get known as marching in the very first line of the public taste—mind, I don't say ahead of it—instead of doing hand-springs in the middle of a brass band just behind. Miss Hertzog and I have talked that over a good deal."

"If there are, there must be others," Cornelia thought. The dream of a regenerated industry remained to cheer her when Phil was gone. And he had scarcely disappeared when "The Wild Dove" flew into the scenario department like a bomb from heaven.

What excitement prevailed over its New York postmark! And what greater excitement was, alas, missed, through no one save Cornelia knowing that, but for her forwarding it from the Bronx flat, it would have been postmarked Atlanta! The scenario department, which an hour ago had been half dead from ennui and kept to its job only by the faithful pinpricks of Miss Jacobs' stenographic pen, now read "The Wild Dove" in order to report upon it favorably, but it read it for its own joy. And, having read, little Mr. Thompson smiled gleefully. Miss Browne and M. Jerome Hubbard said, with raised brows, that when originals like this were written, the motion picture, though the youngest of the arts, had come into its own. Miss Frye simpered something girlish and refined about a labor of love, the new young man in Phil Nathan's "lace" swore sacramentally and Miss Jacobs cried. Only two favorable reports were necessary in order to force its reading upon Mr. Leach, but every member of the department reported.

Mr. Leach, startled into reading it at once, felt thrilled generously, profoundly, by pride of craft. And asked himself, also, he should not run an iron into Lyman since the iron was not only hot but legitimate. For Mr. Leach, angry at having been left behind when his own scenario had gone abroad, and struggling to solace himself by keeping track of its publicity, had been unable to find, in any of the fun magazines out that day, the new version of "Under Two Flags" had an author. Thus he reported favorably upon "The Wild Dove" and its author, and the scenario department put this record in its place in the card catalog. The Bronx flat held its breath.

For nearly a month nothing happened. Except that time itself seemed to grow tenser. At first Cornelia missed Phil and then, still more, she missed Benny. For Benny, with his elastic bones seemed to take the final stitches in knitting themselves together during a hurried call paid him by Daniel K. Leach, whom the news reported as sailing for Spain to finish Cosmo-Melwyn's great spectacular feature, "The Heel of the Conqueror," in the Atlantic City, starting from the fact that his first grasp of the fact that there were people who actually lived in Atlantic City. But as the Lyman might be expected any day, the Marsh family became incapable of any reactions not connected with that answer.

For this, as Cornelia had been so many years in learning, is a slippery world. Yet it seemed improbable that even here anything so fantastic could happen as that Lyman should experience such a change of heart as would lead him to offer Dulcie Jayne an original signed Henry Horner. And it did not happen. As the New Year's greeting to the Marshes, somewhat indirectly proffered, Lyman added a postscript to a chatty, personal letter he had been moved to write Mr. Leach, dealing mainly with a luncheon to be given the heads of the Under Two Flags company by Sheikh Ilderim ben Ahmed. In his postscript Lyman wrote:

Whereupon Miss Jacobs, furious but faithful, inscribed firmly upon the card already recording the scenario department's unanimous acceptance of "The Wild Dove."

Rejected by Mr. Lyman Hertzog, December 31, 1927.

And Cornelia went forth and wrote a word upon a slip of paper. And the word was flashed across seas and through strange coutries and under the eyes of Dulcie Jayne:

"REJECTED."

Nothing could really matter now. The Marshes had only to wait a little feverishly, perhaps, with rather strained eyes and rather shaky movements, but only to wait for Dulcie's news. Would she write? Or cable? Or would it break out immediately, resoundingly, in the papers?

It was in the papers that it broke out. Only it wasn't Dulcie's news, it was Lyman's. Mr. Lyman Hertzog, said the papers, on merriment toward the end of the first week in January, had abandoned his idea of producing a new version of "Under Two Flags" and was leaving Algiers for Cherbourg, whence he would sail for New York in a few days to institute proceedings against his former well-known star, Dulcie Jayne, for breach of contract.

LOOK AT THERE - MY SOCKS - THAT I'VE LOOKED HIGH AND LOW FOR - GIVEN YOME FOR CHRISTMAS - AND I FIND THEM TUCKED AWAY BACK OF AN OLD TRUNK IN THE ATTIC - I'M GOING TO SET A TRAP AROUND HERE SOME TIME AND IF I EVER CATCH THE PERSON THAT'S HIDING MY STUFF I'LL TEACH HIM

THEY WERE TAKEN RIGHT OUT OF MY DRAWER - I DON'T MIND GIVING PEOPLE THINGS IF THEY ASK FOR THEM - BUT WHEN THEY GO STEALING THEM - FROM UNDER YOUR OWN EYES

MOON MULLINS—OH! MR. TUMBLER DETESTS THE HOUSE DETECTIVE

SAY, EMMY - THAT MRS. TUMBLER WAS UP AND BORROWED MY HAND BAG - SHE SAID SHE WANTED TO CARRY SOME LAUNDRY OUT IN IT BUT I'VE GOT A HUNCH THEY'RE GONNA BLOW.

WELL, WITH THEM OWING ME A WEEKS BOARD I CAN'T AFFORD TO TAKE ANY CHANCES, MOON - WHY DON'T YOU JUST KINDA PEEK AROUND AND SEE WHAT HE IS UP TO -

HE WAS POKIN' A PENCIL THROUGH TH' KEY HOLE.

SOMEBODY'S STENOGR—What!—No Spinach?

WELL - THAT'S ANOTHER DAY! THANK GOODNESS JACKS GOIN' TO TAKE ME OUT TONIGHT! I NEED SOME CHEERIN' UP.

AND AM I HUNGRY! THANK HEAVENS MOTHER'S A GOOD COOK! I HOPE SUPPERS ALL READY!

Bevy of Visitors Inspire Activity in Social Groups

A bevy of charming visitors, around whom revolve a series of informal affairs, furnish interest and social inspiration among society's different circles.

The young matron contingent will assemble in the name of lovely Mrs. Jess Sweetser, who accompanied her famous husband to the city for the golf tournament, and is the guest of Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman. Sharing honors at the tea which Mrs. Hinman will give today at her home on Fifteenth street will be two recent brides, Mrs. William Ellis III and Mrs. Norris Broyles.

A trio of attractive schoolgirls arriving today from Mount Vernon seminary in Washington, D. C., and including Miss Martha Lewis, Miss Elizabeth Roberts, of Omaha, Neb., and Miss Elizabeth Council, of Americus, will be central figures at a round of affairs planned by members of the college set. They will be the guests during the spring vacation of Miss Lewis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coley J. Lewis, at their home on Springdale road. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will entertain at dinner this evening honoring these lovely belles.

Other affairs on the day's calendar will include the birthday party at which Mrs. Roy Merry will entertain honoring her little daughter, Virginia; the presentation of "Bob" by the Cecilian Dramatic club of North Avenue Presbyterian school; the benefit bridge at the Civic club of West End, and the annual banquet which will be given by the Gilbert class of St. Mark's Sunday school.

GOOD LOOKING SHOES THAT ARE COMFORTABLE

"HESTIA"

If the Day's Work "does you up"

THIS Shoe gives relief from the "done up" feeling that follows much walking or standing. The Cantilever heel and the snug-fitting flexible arch take the weight of the body off the weaker part of the foot. There is toe-room, and the flexible shank allows the arch muscles to exercise and keep strong.

Opheus Music Club To Meet Friday.

The Opheus Music club meets in Hall No. 1, Chamber of Commerce building, Friday evening, March 25, the president, Miss Velma Mason, presiding.

The musical composer for study will be Mendelssohn, each student contributing something on the life and works of this writer. Character building is a definite part of the work of club and will be under the direction of Miss Anna Mae Farmer, the quality for the month being discrimination between the true and the false speech. "Never speak ill of anyone" has been the motto for the month, and the students have endeavored to practice control of speech by following the rule as given by J. Krishnamurti in his book, "At the Feet of the Master."

Decorations in the club colors, yellow and violet, will be in charge of the chairman of the decorating and flower committees. A special musical program has been arranged, consisting of piano solos and duets.

Johnson-Sylvester Wedding Is Beautiful Event in Decatur

Of cordial interest to a large circle of relatives and friends was the marriage of Miss Annie Johnson and Craig Sylvester, which took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist church, in Decatur, with Dr. A. J. Moncrief officiating.

The choir loft was garlanded with southern smilax and festoons hung gracefully down from it, making a beautiful background for the bridal party, which stood on the rostrum.

Seven-branched cathedral candelabra were arranged among the ferns on the rail of the choir loft. Stately palms interspersed with floor baskets of Easter lilies alternating with tall single cathedral candelsticks formed a beautiful setting with the bridal party in the foreground.

A program of pre-nuptial music was rendered by L. P. Johnson at the organ, Mrs. Henry Robinson, violinist, and Paul Crutchfield soloist.

Wedding Attendants.
The groomsmen, Joseph Barnes and P. D. Allen, were first and followed by Otis Barnes and Alan McLennan. The bridesmaid, Miss Martha Sylvester.

Opportunity Day Presents the Unusual, in 2 Special Groups

Sorosis Shoes and Others

Opportunity day alone could afford such values as these, and only because the sizes are incomplete and because they are odds and ends that now do not fit into our regular stock. Do not mistake the quality, however, for not weeks ago they were selling at the original high price at which they were intended to sell.

About half of the group are Sorosis shoes—while the others are of another high grade make. There are pastel parchments, some patents, patents with gum wood calf combination and desert sand kid—all today at

American Poet To Address Students At Agnes Scott

Miss Louise Driscoll, eminent American poet, now residing in Catskill, N. Y., will be the guest of Agnes Scott college from March 23 to March 25. She will speak to the student body at large during the chapel period Thursday morning and later to the class in modern poetry. Miss Driscoll's poetry has won for her a just place in the ranking of modern poets. In 1914, her poem, "The Metal Check," won the prize offered by the Poetry magazine for the best American poem of the year. Her two volumes of verse, "The Garden of the West" and "Garden Grace" have given her membership into the Poetry Society of America. She is distinguished also as the chairman of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs.

While at the college, Miss Driscoll will be entertained at dinner Wednesday night by Miss Elizabeth Lilly, president of the Agnes Scott Poetry club, and at luncheon on Thursday by Miss Louise McKinney, professor of English. The Poetry club will honor her with a tea Wednesday.

The Decatur Alumnae club and faculty members of Agnes Scott college will present three farces Saturday, March 26, at 8:30 o'clock, in the gymnasium auditorium of Agnes Scott. One of these farces, Two Slaterns and a King, a costume farce in verse by Edna St. Vincent Millay, was first produced at Vassar college. The other farces are "Standing Moving" and "When Two's Not One."

Those taking part are Mr. and Mrs. S. Querry Stokes, Mrs. Warren Mathews, Misses Dick Scandrett, Lucile Alexander, Ruth Pirkle, Daisy Frances Smith, Florine Brown, Leone Bowers, Ethel Ware and Lawlawn Wilborn. The price of admission is 50 cents. The money will be used in refurnishing the alumnae house. Miss Sterling Johnson, of the class of '26, is president of the Decatur Alumnae club.

Miss Montgomery And Dr. Stewart Are Complimented

Miss Mary Will Montgomery and Dr. J. Stewart, whose marriage will take place this spring, were recipients of a delightful bridge-supper Wednesday evening at which Mrs. Edwin McFall entertained at her home on Church street in Decatur.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. J. C. Stephenson, Mrs. J. A. Montgomery and Miss Frances Stephenson. Miss Montgomery wore green chiffon, embroidered in rhinestones, and Mrs. McFall wore black lace.

The guests included Miss Montgomery, Miss Zella Stewart, Mrs. A. Montgomery, T. J. Stewart, Arthur Hammons, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hinchland, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dobbins, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Branch, Jr., Lieutenant and Mrs. John Weckerlin, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elder, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Myrick Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Volkenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ahern, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Barry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ramspeck, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. Cone Bond.

Mrs. Cox Honored By Lord Rossmore At Birthday Dinner

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 23.—(Special).—Lord Rossmore, of London, England, gave a birthday dinner to Mrs. Charles H. Cox, of Atlanta, tonight at the Clarendon hotel and had as his guests Mrs. Dr. W. S. Goldsmith, Mrs. J. R. Molloy and Mrs. M. K. Bailey, of Atlanta; Mrs. Elmer I. Kincaid, of New York; Mrs. H. M. Wallis, Jr., of Ormond; Mrs. Marion Fiken, of Chicago; Mrs. Mildred Archer, of Redbank, N. J.; Miss Jean Wuertz, of New York; W. Lee Guinness, T. H. H. Freeman and Major H. D. Segrave, driver of the Sunbeam racing car, all of London, England; Elmer L. Kincaid, New York, and W. F. Strum, Indianapolis, Ind.

Junior Music Club Hear Mrs. MacDowell.

Mrs. Edward MacDowell's recital given recently at the Atlanta Woman's club was received with such favorable comments by all who heard her that she was urged to give a similar program for the Junior Music club. As a token of friendship for Miss Evelyn Jackson and of Mrs. MacDowell's love for children, an interesting program was enjoyed Monday afternoon at Edison Hall. The freshness of the entire musical program as well as the lecture was remarkable.

Miss Stephens To Compliment Miss Driscoll Friday Evening

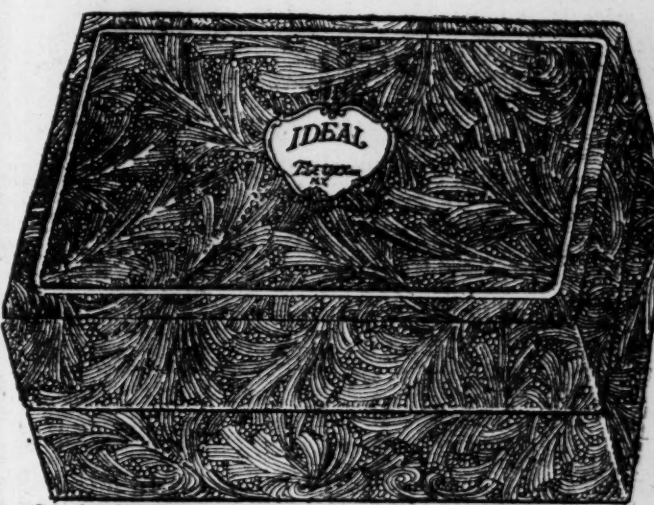

Miss Nan Stephens will entertain informally at a recital at her home on Briarcliff road, Friday evening, March 25, complimenting Miss Louise Driscoll, of New York, resident poet at Agnes Scott college this week. Invited to meet the distinguished honor guest are a group of Atlantans representing artistic organizations of cultural interest to hear Miss Driscoll read several of her poems. She is recognized as a very famous poet and won the first prize offered by the Poetry Society of America, for the poem "Metal Discs," written around the metal identification tags which were worn by the soldiers in the world war. She is also author of "Garden Grace," and "Garden of the West," successful books, and her verse appeared in the Bookman and other prominent publications. Miss Driscoll was invited to Atlanta by the faculty of Agnes Scott college, as poet critic for the enthusiastic student body belonging to the Poetry club. She numbered among her friends Harriet Monroe, and the late Amy Lowell, and last summer was associated with Miss Stephens at the McDowell colony in Peterboro, N. H.

The Very Essence

Heinz Tomato Ketchup is boiled down until only the full, rich tomato essence remains, rich with choice spices, granulated sugar, and Heinz own vinegar.

That's why it makes other food taste so good—why it imparts to plain foods a new appeal, while making the best of food taste even better.

Every step in the making of this popular condiment is a Heinz step exclusively. Its goodness is its own, developed by Heinz over a period of fifty-eight years.

British Plane

Destroys China

Pirate Hold

London, March 23.—(AP)—An old established stronghold of piracy in China fell today before an up-to-the-minute attack in which airplane bombing figured.

Bias Hay, a notorious resort of sea raiders, situated a short distance up the coast from Hong Kong, was demolished by British warships, the aircraft carrier Hermes and two cruisers participating in the attack. After the bombardment, in which no lives were reported lost, the warships returned to port.

The bombardment was provoked by an attack Monday night on the steamer Hopang. When the Hopang reached Hong Kong, the officers reported that pirates had overpowered the crew, robbed the vessel, wounding a European passenger and gone ashore at Bias Bay. Today's punitive expedition followed upon the report.

Authorities in London are hopeful, but not certain, that the Bias Bay pirate band has been dispersed. For many years they have preyed in this manner on shipping in the South China sea.

College Heads Attack Mellon On Debts Stand

New York, March 23.—(United News.)—Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, again is taken to task for his attitude toward allied war debts in a letter made public today by Professor E. R. A. Seligman, of Columbia university.

Seligman defends the 42 members of the Columbia faculty of political science, and the faculty of Princeton university, who recently issued statements asking a revision of the war debt settlement.

Mellon is charged with ignoring the moral aspects of the debt situation in his answer to the Princeton statement. Prof. Seligman says that the Columbia and Princeton statements were based on an inadequate knowledge of the facts as answered by Seligman, who says that the colleges are "thoroughly familiar with all the facts that have been made public by the treasury department."

If the treasury has any further information of a vital character which it has not divulged the time has now come when such information should be made public, Seligman declares.

Seligman denies that the Columbia statement had anything to do with the failure of France to ratify the debt agreement. France has been able to balance her budget without the aid of the American loan, "the desire to secure which was the only strong argument for ratification put forward by any responsible French statesman," he says.

Replying to Mellon's objection that the colleges have offered no new formula than the "percentage to pay," Seligman says the colleges suggest no "rigid percentage basis for collecting the payments," but urge instead a plan which will take detailed account of the varying nature and origin of the debts themselves.

MEN RESCUE GIRL AFTER SHE TRIES TO END HER LIFE

New Orleans, March 23.—(AP)—Ten hours of clinging to a log in the Mississippi river when she decided she did not want to die after she had leaped into the river in a suicide attempt ended today when Miss Josephine Gomez, 19, was brought ashore by five men.

First aid treatment was administered and Miss Gomez was sent to a hospital where she is recovering.

Miss Gomez said that she leaped into the river when she feared her aunt would scold her for going to a movie.

Attempt To Seize Election Boxes To Cause Battle

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—Seizure of additional ballots cast in the last Pennsylvania senatorial election will be attempted tomorrow by Jerry South as deputy of the senate campaign funds committee.

He left Washington today for Philadelphia to carry out the order of the committee to impound the ballots in Lackawanna, Schuylkill, Luzerne, and Delaware counties and bring them here for a recount in the contest between Democrat William Vare, republican, by William B. Wilcox, the democratic candidate.

When South attempts to take over the ballots he is expected to meet with court action instituted by friends of Vare, who contend the committee is without authority to prosecute its inquiry into the Pennsylvania senatorial election on the ground that it passed out of existence when the senate failed to pass a continuing resolution before it adjourned.

An opposite view is taken by the committee which holds that it is still alive and ready to defend its authority either in the courts or in the senate. The committee surmounted its first obstacle in the refusal of Senator Keys, republican, New Hampshire, chairman of the audit committee, to honor vouchers for its expenses by raising its own funds and by appointing Mr. South deputy after David S. Barry, the senate sergeant-at-arms, had refused to go to Pennsylvania to impound additional ballots.

Mr. Barry continues to hold to the position that he was justified in refusing to carry out the committee's order until he had had time to obtain legal advice on his authority to serve a committee, which had been shut off from regular senate funds.

Triumph Seen For Mussolini In Balkans Row

Rome, March 23.—(AP)—The Italian interpretation of the controversy with Yugoslavia over Albania is that Premier Mussolini again has triumphed in a highly romantic, but intensely dangerous diplomatic duel between Rome and Paris in which the prize was predominance of influence in the Balkans.

It is asserted in sources close to officialdom, has, by his handling of the Albanian incident, won his fourth Balkan victory in as many months. These are said to be the conclusion of the treaty of Tirana with Albania, confirming the predominance of Italian influence in that country, the winning over of Bulgaria to sympathy with Rome, the shattering of the Franco-Serbian Little Entente by ratification of the treaty recognizing the ceding of Bessarabia to Rumania, and by checkmating Yugoslavia's alleged effort to reopen the Albanian question.

Italian observers believe Mussolini has accomplished an unusual series of contests with French political hegemony in the Balkans without a single gesture toward rattling the sabre and maintain that he now has a right to be considered among the world's great statesmen. They declare his genius for political maneuvering permitted him, in 72 hours, to jockey Italy in the eyes of world public opinion, from the position of war threatener to peace defender.

FRANCE HOPEFUL OF SETTLEMENT

Paris, March 23.—(AP)—France is hopeful that the latest Balkan dispute over Italian charges that Jugo-Slavia had mobilized troops along the Albanian frontier will be settled definitely and peacefully by direct diplomatic exchanges between Rome and Belgrade. It is not yet known here whether Italy will accept Jugo-Slavia's offer to permit an inquiry into the situation along the frontier. But the fact that calm has prevailed there yesterday and today has increased hopes that the situation is out of any possible danger, although dispatches from the Balkan frontier report Italian troop movements in Serbia.

MINERS THREATEN STRIKE IN FRANCE

Paris, March 23.—A miners' strike as serious as that which brought on the great general strike in England last April threatens France.

The national council of underground workers, representing all the principal French districts, has sent a communication to the minister of public works which can be paraphrased in the same terms as that which was issued in England under the direction of A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' federation, it says in effect: "Not a centime off our pay unless the living cost moves that way."

The cause of the strike threat is a threatened reduction of wages April 1 which would average 8-12 per cent.

Drainage Land Is Left Idle, Bureau Says

Washington, March 23.—(AP)—More than two and a half million acres of land in the fifty-eight drainage districts in the lower Mississippi valley and South Atlantic states have been made available for cultivation by drainage but are not yet cultivated, the department of agriculture announced today.

In the drainage districts studied by specialists of the department, the report said, only about 26 per cent of the districts, which comprise a total of 4,100,000 acres, have been brought under the plow. The present average annual increase in area cultivated was estimated at about 2 per cent of the total.

About 667,000 acres were in cultivation in these districts when they were organized 12 years ago, the report said. The area since brought into cultivation is 880,000, leaving 2,544,000 acres available.

In southwest Missouri five districts were studied, showing 355,000 acres cultivated and 355,000 uncultivated. In East Arkansas nine districts, 573,000 and 500,000; Mississippi, eight districts, 419,000 and 306,000; Louisiana, eight districts, 74,000 and 340,000; North Carolina, seven districts, 64 and 156,000; South Carolina, two districts, 13,000 and 31,000, and Florida, 19 districts, 58,000 and 796,000.

Commenting on the report from several states, the department said: "In Louisiana, where the principal crop is sugar cane, the cultivated acreage has been increased by bringing in some new land for vegetables and general crops, but this has been offset by the abandonment of land long devoted to producing sugar."

"In the largest drainage district in North Carolina much of the land was acquired for the purpose of resale after reclamation, although generally the projects in that state have been organized to make cut-over land usable."

"The South Carolina districts, to a greater extent than those in the other states, were initiated for increasing the cultivated acreage in established plantations, but labor to clear and work land has not been available."

"Most of the districts studied in Florida were organized for the purpose of subdividing and reselling land purchased in large tracts. The land ranges from pine flat woods to saw grass prairie, much of it being covered with scattering pine and saw palmetto. More than a fourth of the area of these 19 districts is in the everglades."

Divorce an Hour Is Reno Average For Separations

Reno, Nev., March 23.—(AP)—Reno is not on the gilded frontier, but it has a "rush" of its own to "share in the attention now being given to Nevada."

In the last 48 hours 48 suits for divorce have been filed in the Reno courts. The rush has developed as the result of the new three months' residence law which was passed by the recent legislature.

Even when Reno, under the advantages of the six months' residence law, was famous as a divorce center, the filing of separation suits never reached such numbers as now. Forty-eight suits in a month was a comparatively high record then.

CALL FOR HELP SENT BY BURNING STEAMER

Astoria, Ore., March 23.—A radio message asking tugs to stand by and escort her into port, has been sent out by the British steamer Belcher, afire off the mouth of the Columbia river.

This was interpreted that the captain of the burning craft fears he may have to abandon the ship, it was said in shipping circles Wednesday.

The last radio message indicated the Belcher had a heavy list due to water pumped into the bunkers, but was still proceeding under her own steam at eight knots an hour.

North Carolina Music Professor Proves Mystery

Raleigh, N. C., March 23.—(AP)—The North Carolina state prison today housed another "mystery." "Paul Turner," who says he is 47 years old and who refuses to disclose anything about himself, except that he is from New York city, began a three to five-year sentence for manslaughter growing out of an automobile accident at Hendersonville last October.

Turner, a man of apparent culture, was convicted 10 days ago of killing W. D. Jordan, a well-known Hendersonville man. It was charged that after he had run Jordan down with his automobile he fled to Tennessee without stopping. He was captured the next day.

The man maintained a stoical silence as to his past and his identity, virtually the only information he ever gave being that he was from New York city and of a prominent family.

He admitted that "Paul Turner" was not his correct name, adding that he "did not want to bring out the skeleton in the closet." He did admit, officials say, that he had been tried years ago for killing a man in New York but was acquitted.

During the trial at Hendersonville Turner pleaded his own case. He conducted examination of witnesses in the manner of a man familiar with court procedure, persons who attended said. After conviction he pleaded with tears in his eyes for a light sentence.

At the prison today he told officials that he was a "professor of music" and that he had accidentally run over a man while on his way to Florida.

HORMEL COMPANY AWARDS CONTRACT FOR PACKING PLANT

Construction on the new packing plant for George A. Hormel & Co. will get under way soon following the letting of a contract, it was announced Wednesday.

The site of the proposed distributing plant, which has a 40-foot frontage on Peters street adjoining the new plant of Swift and company, was sold to the Hormel company through J. L. McLendon. Together with the building, which will be of concrete construction, two stories high over a basement, the total investment was close to $100,000.

THREE ARE KILLED BY SLATE FALLING DOWN MINE SHAFT

Harlan, Ky., March 23.—(AP)—Three miners were killed today by a fall of slate in a shaft where they were working at Twila.

The dead are, Will Gross, Lewis Rednor and "Baby" Day.

They were doing shift work in the Creech Coal company mines in Harlan county when they lost their lives. They were placing pillars in the shaft when slate overhead broke loose and crashed down on them. Their bodies were recovered by miners working in an adjoining shaft.

Dogwood Season Is Here; Visit Country in Safety

The dogwood season is here and the woods are white with the joyous blossoms of early spring.

You'll want to take a ride into the suburban sections, of course, and see the glorious colors of the budding woods. Hundreds of others will do the same thing.

Why not make your trip safe from the financial suffering that follows traffic accidents? Why not insure against the ever-growing accident wave?

The Constitution offers you the famous $7,500 travel accident insurance policy issued by the North American Accident Insurance company for only $1.25 per year.

You know that hundreds of persons are killed and maimed almost daily in Atlanta and this section of the country. You know that your time may come today; that disaster may strike when you least expect it.

The $7,500 travel accident policy provides for payments of sums ranging downward from $7,500 in case of death resulting from certain specified accidents; heavy cash amounts for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for disability resulting from the accidents included in the policy.

A crash of trains, a wreck of public carriers, a collision between automobiles, the speeding wheels of on-rushing cars, burning buildings—everyone of these stands as a constant threat to you.

Appearing regularly in this paper, advertisements describe the insurance offer in detail. Watch for them.

This $7,500 travel, $2,000 auto and $1,000 pedestrian accident policy is issued only to subscribers of The Daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 70 at $1.25 per policy per year. Open to both old and new subscribers.

One who is now taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, or through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible. Those taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, either through a post office or rural route delivery and all these subscribing through the twin-word building contest for one year are eligible by paying $1.25 per year per policy above the subscription price.

In sending application for insurance, the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation. If beneficiary is desired, full Christian name must be given and the relation of same to be insured.

'REVEREND' JORDAN WINS ACQUITTAL ON CHECK CHARGE

Arraigned before Judge Luther Z. Rosser in municipal court on a warrant charging passing a worthless check on a local automobile renting agency, "The Rev." Richard Jordan, under indictment for larceny after trust in connection with the misappropriation of funds of two Atlanta physicians, was acquitted of the allegations of the warrant which was dismissed.

He was returned to Fulton tower where he is held pending trial on the indictment in Fulton superior court alleging that he conspired with Miss Ima G. Hughes, which resulted in the conversion of more than $2,000 to their own use. The funds were the property of Dr. A. H. Bunce and Dr. J. W. Landrum.

In the ruling which dismissed the warrant against Jordan Judge Rosser expressed the opinion that the local rental agency was violating the blue laws and said that in his belief no contract made with the agency would be legal on Sunday.

HARTSFIELD RAP'S CITY MANAGER PLAN

Declaring that the city-manager charter agitation is destined to disrupt to a large degree many of the public improvements including schools and viaducts contemplated by the present form of city government, and that it is fostered and "probably financed" by a large propaganda organization of New York, William B. Hartsfield, alderman from the 14th, Wednesday launched another attack on the proposed new government for Atlanta.

He declared that city council had no right to force candidates in the primary of May 25 to pay for a new charter election aside from the negro voting question which has been injected into the issue, and further contended that proponents of the new charter were asking an unreasonable thing when they requested that candidates in the primary races "foot the bill for a proposition, which if passed would abolish the very job they were seeking."

"This is a preposterous proposition, and champions of the city-manager paper know it," Mr. Hartsfield charged. "There is nothing sound about it. In failing to ask the city democratic executive committee to set the charter election date for May 25, the primary election date, council did not will the new charter election."

Raps "Experiment."

"All proponents of the proposal have to do is to file the initiative petition taken last fall with council. Then it becomes mandatory on that body to set an election 30 days from the time the paper is filed with it. Council will have no choice in the matter, even if it wished to stifle an expression of citizens on it. There, however, is no disposition to do this. People who understand it will not favor the change which among other things, provides that the tax rate may be increased without asking the state legislature and places no limit on business licenses."

Satan Is Seen As Prohibitionist By Evangelist

Dr. Henry Ostrom, who has been speaking for the past 10 days at the St. Paul Methodist church, of which Dr. B. F. Frazer is pastor, spoke Wednesday on "Divine Healing." Speaking Wednesday night on the subject of "Satan," he said Satan would approve of prohibition. He said that he did not attribute the origin of prohibition to Satan, "but as long as Satan could have men in and out of the church, devoting their time to moral betterment of the world without preaching the necessity of being born again, Satan was accomplishing his purpose."

This morning Dr. Ostrom speaks on the subject, "Is There Such a Thing as Speaking in an Unknown Tongue in Our Day?"

Meetings are being held at 10 o'clock each morning and at 7:30 o'clock at night. At each service E. C. Montgomery has charge of the choir.

The services are under the auspices of the Moody Bible institute of Chicago, of which S. B. Sherif is director of the southeastern district.

On Sunday, which is the closing day of the conference, three services have been announced and the subjects will be announced later.

Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Used daily, externally, it soothes the nerves and makes childbirth easy. Finally it makes childbirth safe.

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradford Regulator Co., Dept. A, Buffalo, N. Y., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists everywhere.

Women's Happiness

Rests largely on solving their oldest hygienic problem this new way—true protection; discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

TO be fresh and charming every day, to live every day unhindered, to wear sheerest frocks without a second thought, any time, anywhere... you can now do all, by a new way.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! Deodorizes, too. And thus ends all fear of offending.

✓ As easily disposed of as tissue. No laundry, no embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying, "KOTEX"; you ask for it without hesitancy.

Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves the unnecessary risk of old ways. Insist on the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

Bandit Loses Gun And Gets Beating In Robbing Try

Vivid scenes of a frustrated hold-up were recounted at police headquarters Wednesday morning, when C. D. Dunn, 66, who operates a small grocery store on Bolton road near Moore station, told of beating and disarming a young bandit who tried to rob his store shortly after darkness Tuesday night.

"My suspicions were aroused by the actions of the young man who came into my store with his head bandaged and wanted to purchase some beans," Mr. Dunn stated. "Unable to get the kind of beans he wanted the lad pretended to consult a partner on the outside and soon returned, asking for 30 cents worth of navy beans.

"When I started to measure the beans he pulled a gun on me. I was watching, however, and before he could utter a word I grabbed the gun and a scuffle began." After twisting the weapon from the highwayman's hands, Mr. Dunn related, he fired three shots with the pistol and two more with his shotgun as the youth vanished into the night.

Mr. Dunn told police the affair was witnessed by his daughter, while his blind wife sat in the rear of the store.

BAD CHECK ARTIST
GIVEN TWO YEARS
ON CHAINGANG

E. D. Coleman, alleged "bad check artist" pleaded guilty Wednesday to eight indictments charging passing of worthless checks on Atlanta merchants and was sentenced to serve two years on the chaingang. Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy passed sentence.

The amount of the checks ranged from $5 to $22, it was brought out. He recently was convicted to serve twelve months in DeKalb county on similar charges.

Before the firemen would permit us to enter the ruins of our old store, our buyers were literally "burning the wires" securing a new stock, and manufacturers have rushed the pick of their plants to us in order that we could maintain the high standard of quality that has always been the rule here.

Nothing Salvaged—Nothing Rebuilt

The destruction of our old store and stock was complete. Not one single piece of furniture was saved—not one item was accepted by us after the fire—everything with the exception of our office records (which were in fireproof safes) was completely destroyed, so we are entering our New Store with an entirely new stock of the newest designs possible to be bought. Manufacturers have come to our aid with all possible speed and too, we were able to secure unusually liberal prices. We have withheld the announcement of our opening until we felt that you would not be disappointed, but we now announce "Ready."

Special Reopening Prices Now

In order that YOU may become better acquainted with us in our New Home, we are starting today a great "New Home Sale," and during this event an era of new low prices will prevail. Not reductions on shopworn or "discontinued patterns" that have proven hard sellers, but SPECIAL LOW PRICES on ABSOLUTELY NEW FURNITURE—made possible through the hearty cooperation of the leading Furniture Manufacturers who extended us exceptionally low prices on our purchases, and these prices are being passed on to you. Today marks the formal opening of our New Store, and we extend an invitation to each and every one of our present customers to pay us a visit, and we sincerely hope that each of you will be able to bring along "a friend or two" in order that they, too, may learn of the advantages of buying here—learn more of our reasonable credit terms. We are not listing prices in this announcement for the reason that we have not had time to list prices, but you will find every item specially marked.

IN THE SOUTH, ONE OF THE MOST THRILLING
PHASES OF THE CIVIL WAR WAS THE HAZARDOUS
PRACTICE OF RUNNING THE UNION BLOCKADE.
DESPITE THE DANGER, IT PROVED AN ALLURING
VENTURE BECAUSE OF THE LOW PRICE OF COT-TON WITHIN THE CONFEDERATE LINES AND THE EXTREMELY HIGH PRICE PAID FOR IT ABROAD.

THE VESSELS USED WERE MOSTLY FAST,
CLYDE-BUILT STEAMERS OF BRITISH REGISTRY
AND MANNED LARGELY BY EUROPEANS, WHO IF CAUGHT WERE NOT HELD AS PRISONERS OF WAR.
ON DARK NIGHTS THESE SHIPS, LOADED WITH COTTON, WOULD DART OUT OF SOUTHERN HAR-

THE RETURN TRIP WAS MADE WITH A CARGO OF NECESSITIES AND LUXURIES WHICH BROUGHT
HIGH PRICES IN THE CONFEDERACY, WHILE A PART OF EACH BOATLOAD WAS MADE UP OF MUNITIONS AND SUPPLIES FOR THE CONFEDERATE GOVERNMENT.

A FEW SUCCESSFUL TRIPS MEANT A HAND-

AN EXCLUSIVE OPTICAL STORE

After your oculist has scientifically examined your eyes for glasses you should be careful in the optician you select to have your prescription glass made as you were in the selection of your oculist. There are many patients sadly disappointed in their glasses and lay all the blame on their oculist, when in many cases the fault is in the material and workmanship furnished by the optician. It requires just as much knowledge and skill to make a pair of glasses correctly as it does to make a correct examination of the eye. Ask your oculist about us and our reliability if you do not already know.

MORAL: Have your prescription for glasses filled at Ballard's, a reliable exclusive optical store. No side lines.

Look to Your Chimney!

Every Atlanta housewife sees, with her own eyes, the answer to these questions whenever she looks out the window.

How is it in your home, Madam?

Does your chimney spout smoke in clouds? Does black, grimy dirt and greasy soot filter back into your rugs and draperies—does it cast its ugly film over your walls and woodwork? If so don't blame the furnace—and don't blame the servants! Just think for a minute and you'll realize that you can't have a clean home so long as you burn dirt-spreading fuel.

Change over—today—and burn

Semet-Solvay COKE

SOOTLESS... SMOKELESS

"Anybody can burn Coke and there will be no smoke," said Mr. John Hunter the other day. (Mr. Hunter is an eminent fuel expert and combustion engineer who made comparative tests in his own home with Anthracite and leading Soft Coals—and Coke. As a result, Mr. Hunter has used Coke exclusively for the last ten years.)

Semet-Solvay Coke is made at Birmingham, Alabama. High-grade Alabama coal is treated to remove all smoke-and-soot-making elements. This produces Semet-Solvay Coke, the most efficient fuel ever developed for household use.

TO HOLDERS OF GEORGIA RAILWAY AND POWER COMPANY TWENTY YEAR 7% GENERAL MORTGAGE GOLD BONDS, SERIES OF 1921:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, under and pursuant to the provisions of Article III of that certain Indenture, dated the 1st day of November, 1921, between Georgia Railway and Power Company and Bankers Trust Company, Trustee, that said Georgia Railway and Power Company has elected to redeem on and after April 1, 1927, all of its outstanding Twenty-Year 7% General Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series of 1921, issued under and secured by said Indenture. On April 1, 1927, there will become due and payable upon each of said bonds the sum of $100.00, together with interest thereon from and after said date interest thereon shall be paid in cash. Holders of said bonds should surrender the same with all unpaid coupons, and duly assigned to the office of the County Commissioners of DeKalb County, Georgia, for the following work and under the following terms and conditions:

1. The building in which this work is to be installed is being erected on the present property of the county, located in the city of Marietta, Fla., bounded by West Flieger street on the north, Southwest First street on the east, Northwest First street on the north and Northwest First street on the west.

2. The building is to be a modern steel frame structure with three-story base and basement approximately 108'x108', surrounded by a terrace on all four sides. The lot line, approximately 130'x130', four stories high, which in turn will be surrounded by a terrace approximately 50' high.

3. Bids will be received upon the following work as more specifically shown and specified by the plans and specifications herein mentioned:

1. Electric light fixtures and installation of same.

Plans and specifications for the above, together with bid blanks, can be secured from A. Ten Eyck Brown, architect, and August Geller, associate architect, Nos. 1007-8 Huntington building, Miami, Fla., or 711-20 Forsyth building, Atlanta, Ga., upon payment of a refundable fee of $2.00. This deposit will be retained until the return of the plans and specifications in complete shape to the architect's office.

All bids to be considered must be received on or before 12:00 o'clock, eastern time, April 13, 1927, and must be submitted in accordance with the form attached to the specifications.

Each bid to be considered must also be accompanied by a check for 2% of the total amount of the bid, to be held by the County Commissioners of DeKalb County, Georgia, as a guarantee of the bidder's good faith in the performance of the contract.

The form of contract to be used shall be that of the American Institute of Architects, as modified by the County Commissioners of DeKalb County, Georgia, and as approved by the Board of County Commissioners.

The Board of County Commissioners of DeKalb County, Georgia, will have the right to reject any or all bids.

Prominent Man Dies

John Tolbert Wilkerson, prominent local real estate agent, died yesterday at his home on Avenue A following a long illness.

Mr. Wilkerson was 65 years of age and had lived in Rome about 60 years. He had been in business here for about 40 years. He was not only active in civic affairs, but was a member and leader of the Trinity Methodist church.

He is survived by his widow; five daughters, two sons, one brother and one sister.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the residence, conducted by Rev. Arthur Maness and Dr. J. E. Sammons. Interment will be in Myrtle Hill cemetery.

Not to Seek Bail

Following the announcement by Judge James Madox of Floyd superior court that he would recommend the grand jury for action in the case of McKinley Edwards, held at the Floyd county jail, on charge of slaying his brother-in-law, the grand jury for the defendant announced that they would not ask for bail or a preliminary hearing in the case but would await the action of the grand jury in the April term of Floyd superior court, it is said.

SWEETBRIAR HEAD LOSTS OLD HOME IN CONFLAGRATION

Lynchburg, Va., March 23.—(AP)—The home of Dr. M. A. Glass, president of Sweetbriar college, 12 miles north of here, was burned today, the fire starting from an undetermined cause in the basement of that residence, a relic of colonial days. Practically all of the antique furniture, portraits and furnishings left in the residence by the family of Mrs. Indiana Fletcher Williams, founder of the college, were gotten out of the building by students.
